

ACCOUNTING ADVISORY SERVICES

Enabling the Modern Finance & Accounting Organization

Solutions to Modernize Operations

Cherry Bekaert helps our clients modernize accounting with dedicated, on-demand offerings for today's technical needs, while consulting on tomorrow's digital solutions to provide key management information, consistently and predictably. Prior to the COVID-19 environment, manual processes and reactive accounting operations were constraining. In today's climate, they are simply unsustainable. At the same time, driving down infrastructure costs while driving up value to the business is imperative. Our clients find Accounting Advisory services enable an organization's accounting and finance department to be a strategic business partner.

Recent findings in the FSN "The Future of Automation in the Finance Function" Global Survey 2020 illustrates that finance and accounting functions demand that we look at new ways to deliver meaningful insights and transformative solutions.¹

- ▶ 90% CFOs believe that accounting standardization is a key objective
- ▶ 40% Expect headcount reductions in accounting and finance post COVID
- ▶ Only 15% Anticipate finance and accounting organizations will return to a traditional office setting

Technical

Accounting Consulting services allows you to focus on your operations and let us fill fractional needs for GAAP or other expertise. Our on-demand team gets to know your business while supplementing your resources by providing a streamlined approach of non-routine accounting or other transaction complexities, allowing you to run your organization.

Transactional

Preparing for an IPO, an opening balance sheet after an acquisition or for an audit can disrupt accounting operations. Today's finance and accounting teams align with experienced professionals to eliminate technical accounting challenges so they can remain focused on being a day-to-day strategic member of the business.

Transformational

How does your business need to transform? Are timely KPIs important to your business? Considering a new ERP? Our diagnostic tools and services provide the insights you need to modernize the finance and accounting functions, while driving consistency and stability in your organization's financial data.
